"Shore Acres" Is Opening Play at Arts and Crafts

By Susan Porter

Arts and Crafts Theater will open in November with a play as national as Thanksgiving day itself, a play which, perhaps more than any other, has gathered about itself the force of American tradition—James A. Herne's famous old play, "Shore Acres."

Herne was the first naturalistic dramatist of this country, breaking from tradition with a gesture as defiant as Ibsen's own, and initiating the dramatic freedom which today finds its expression in Eugene O'Neill.

"Shore Acres," which William Archer called "the greatest American play I know," and which Clayton Hamilton, in his book, "The Glory of the Theater," definitely declares to be dramatic literature, is as vital today as when it first appeared back in 1893. Vital today, because it deals with human beings, not with moods and manners, but with the "intense and vital struggle between human wills," which is at once the essence and essential of drama.

Housing Committee Get Sleeping Quarters

The local housing committee having to do with securing sleeping accommodations for the visitors who will be here during Serra Pilgrimage Week met with the Carmel Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening.

Results of a canvas made among the homes of this city were reported as affording about one hundred rooms and one hundred and fifty beds.

The Chamber of Commerce appropriated fifty dollars toward the expense of maintaining a renting bureau during the week of October 12-19. Mrs. Alice Ward will probably be in charge of the bureau.

Carmel Fire-Fighters Decline Compensation

J. D. Jones, chief engineer of the Associated Oil Co., the property of which was destroyed in the recent Monterey fire, was in Carmel last Tuesday to consult with Fire Chief J. E. Nichols relative to the matter of paying the Carmel firemen for any losses sustained.

A meeting of the firemen was held that evening to consider the matter, and resulted in the adoption of the following motion:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that the members of the Carmel Fire Department do not desire to put in claims to the Associated Oil Company either for loss of time nor for personal losses sustained in the fire in Monterey on Sunday and Monday, September fourteenth and fifteenth."

A copy of this motion was dispatched to Mr. Jurs, and accompanying it was a paragraph of appreciation, as follows: "The department wishes to express its thanks for the kindly consideration of the officials of the Associated Oil Co."

La Follette Meeting in Monterey

A public meeting in the interest of Senator Robert M. La Follette's presidential candidacy is to be held in the Monterey Theatre next Wednesday night. Rudolph Spreckels will be the speaker of the evening.

LITTLE PILGRIMS

Plans for the most colorful and largest parade of the Serra Pilgrimage, the Parade of the Three Occupations, picturing the successive occupations of California by Spaniards, Mexicans and Americans, which will usher in the first day of the Pilgrimage are now being completed by Rolin G. Watkins.

Humberto Obregon, son of the President of Mexico, is in San Francisco. The executive committee of the Pilgrimage has extended to the young man an invitation to attend the big doings, Oct. 12 to 19.

Ten special city policemen will be provided to aid the Pilgrimage committee to handle the enormous traffic expected on the Peninsula during Serra week, announced Mayor B. F. Wright.

Training of the choral sections of the various pageants of the Serra Pilgrimage, began last Monday night, in the club rooms of the Pacific Grove Civic club. The training of the chorists will be under the direction of L. E. M. Cosmey, president of the Pacific Grove Music Society, who has for years directed the orchestras and choruses of the society. Cosmey will need at least 200 singers and all those who are interested in the musical side of the Pilgrimage are asked to come to the rehearsals.

On a stage 1000 feet long and 100 feet deep, 750 actors will live again the drama of Father Junipero's landing in Monterey. Those are the dimensions which give some idea of the scale upon which the Pilgrimage week pageant "Fray Junipero Serra" will be staged.

Fire-Fighters Have Strong Advocate

Editor Pine Cone,
Dear Sir:

The warning has been sounded in the past but little heed has been taken to the call. I mean little material heed.

Fire—that ignitable fiend, has a way of pouncing without warning. Proof of this is in Carmel right up to the conflagration at the Hopper home, last week.

Now, one fact is evident to all—we must combat the fiend, when our siren sounds.

The writer is not able to respond in person, nor would he be of any help in the combat with the fire fiend, but, he can, through the columns of the Pine Cone, make a few suggestions, gleaned from a talk with some of the laddies. Here are some random suggestions; take them to your home or forget them.

1. When the siren blows, please, Mr. or Mrs. or Miss Excited Automobile driver, give our truck driver a clear right-of-way to the scene of the conflagration. Do not follow right behind the fire truck. Why? In the absence of a fire box system, it is often necessary to back out and turn into another road or path, in order to get the best position to set the engine to do the best work. The Hopper home fire was an example. Certainly onlookers want a good view, but remember, the fiend or fire demon works rapidly and our laddies know this and want to count ten on him as soon as he can be reached with the telling blow, namely, the chemical and hand-to-hand battle.

Remember the jam down by Sam Power's gate? Whose auto caused a jam and lost time? All the boys want is a clear, direct path, then watch them work.

It was lucky that the rain wet the grass and brush around the Hopper home. Ask Perry Newberry about the cinders and what would have happened if rain had not dampened the surroundings.

2. Now the fire laddies need gas-masks. If necessary to go through flames and gas into inner rooms or up stairs, those few safe breaths which are afforded by a mask, add to the men's power of endurance in exposed places. They cost about six dollars each. If our trustees cannot get them or do not heed the Chief's requests, then why can not a Carmel property owner supply them. It is a good investment. Ask any fire-laddie.

3. One laddie had an offer from two Carmel ladies to give the boys a supper. "No, ladies, we all have homes and enough to eat; if you want to help, buy us fire masks." Arrange a mass meeting or in some way let it be known that great assistance can be given toward better fire service and control.

At this meeting you will hear some very valuable suggestions. We have our Carmel-by-the-Sea Fire Department, but we need a few things which will make it a perfect organization. Ask Chief Nichols, or Bob, Happy, Gus, Harry, Teaby, another Harry, and a lot of others not all known by the writer.

4. The fire-fighting volunteer is a necessity in every community where there are no paid fire fighters. A volunteer fire department is an old institution, the world over, and will be so long as inflammable material is used in home construction. The fire fiend is ever lurking.

Therefore, Carmelites, get busy and do some thinking about this overlooked subject. Whose home may be attacked next? No one knows. I would call each and every property owner by name, to sit up and notice, but I will leave it to their own wish to do as they think proper.

The writer's position as member of Sanitary Board deals in matters of health, but the safety of life and property in Carmel needs considerable attention, hence this communication.

DOING WHAT YOU DISLIKE

Baseball has greatly increased the average boy's knowledge of mathematics. A more probable explanation is that this lad is not interested in mathematics for the very simple reason that he is "not cut out for it." There is such a thing as having no "arithmetic sense"—just as some people never can learn to play cards, not having "card sense." As long as the boy is reasonably bright in other studies, don't worry too much if he is backward at arithmetic. Chances are, when he strikes out in the world for himself, he will follow the line of work he likes best. And, not being "good at figures," he'll hire someone to do his figuring for him—possibly the schoolmate who stands at the head of the arithmetic class.

Real education is mental training, rather than filling the brain with facts like pouring water into a jug with a funnel. It is important to know things. But it is more important to know where to look for and find knowledge when needed. The world is full of star mathematicians anxious to work for $35 a week, the same as every poorhouse has several good fiddlers. So it goes with other studies.

REMINDERS FOR THOUGHTLESS SMOKERS

The forest service has just written to seventeen of the largest tobacco manufacturers of the United States, requesting them to insert warning cards in every package of cigarettes they put out, cautioning the smoker to be more careful with fire in the woods. Similar campaigns are being undertaken by various state chambers of commerce.

The reason for this is that in studying the problem of fire prevention, the forest service has been forcibly impressed with the hazard of forest fires caused by thoughtless smokers. Figures recently compiled covering Oregon and Washington show that 23 per cent of the fires have been caused by smokers.

The public, year by year, is becoming more and more aggressive on the subject of man-caused forest fires and should demand the taking of whatever steps are necessary to most thoroughly eliminate such fires.

Inasmuch as matches and cigarettes are responsible for a lion's portion of our annual fire loss, match manufacturers could well join with tobacco manufacturers in spreading the gospel of carefulness with fires.

Short Bits Relating to The Seven Arts

America's Place in the World

"Should be compulsory reading for congressmen," says the New York Evening Post's review of Herbert Adams Gibbons' "America's Place in the World" (The Century Co.) And further on, recommends the book to the citizens of the United States that are beginning to think internationally. It is not, however, a book to comfort the internationalist whose internationalism is founded upon altruism. It is a forthright advocacy of a strong, consistent policy of basing our American foreign relations upon self-interest, openly avowed and forcibly supported. Mr. Gibbons believes this best for all the world. We quote from a number of reviews.

EARLY VERSION OF HAMLET

The old Elizabethan play called "Fratricide Punished, or Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," was recently performed at Oxford. This play has a curious history.

There has always been a good deal of interest in the early version of the play, "Hamlet," from which Shakespeare took the incidents of his own masterpiece, but no copy of it is known.

The present play, "Fratricide Punished," is a version of earlier "Hamlet" that English companies of players used when touring on the continent. It was preserved, in German, at Dresden (which an English company is known to have visited just about the time Shakespeare's "Hamlet" was produced in London), and the play recently performed is a transcript of the German version. Nearly all the characters are the same in both plays.

Pilgrims at Bernhardt's Grave

Next to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, says a Paris, France, copyright cable to the New York Tribune, the marble, which marks the last resting place of Sara Bernhardt in Pere Lachaise cemetery has been the object of more pilgrimages during the year than any other monument in France. All holidays have been observed at the tomb, and the grave of the noted actress is always heaped high with flowers, while throngs pay tribute to her memory almost constantly. Some of the civic authorities are not giving much encouragement to a suggestion to erect a monument to her memory in Paris, since that city is already burdened with statues of dubious worth. There is an opinion that Bernhardt should be honored equally with her great predecessor, Rachel, who is also buried in the same cemetery, as are Chopin, De Musset, Balzac and many other celebrities.

Fairclough's Work Abroad

Professor Henry Rushton Fairclough and Mrs. Fairclough have returned to Stanford University after two weeks spent in Carmel. Professor Fairclough is one of the editors of Art and Archaeology, an illustrated monthly magazine. The May issue of this periodical was devoted to art and archaeology of the Yugoslav kingdom, and was issued under the supervision of Professor Fairclough. In another issue of the magazine he contributed a study of the historic remains of the ancient civilization of the Dalmatian coast, which he was able to make during the year and a half he spent there as representative of the American Red Cross immediately after the armistice.

School Board Sounds Highway Warning

There is to be put down a sidewalk eight feet wide of disintegrated granite, for two blocks, the length of Sunset school property on San Carlos highway. Then the children can walk four abreast in wet weather or dry, free from puddles or dust, and they will be out of the way of passing motorists.

Will the parents help the teachers and the school board? Day after day the children are told to keep off the paved highway. Every effort is made by the teachers to instill the idea, but unless the parents help, an accident is certain to happen. And it may not be the fault of the motorist.

Mothers! Fathers! Will you see that your child keeps off the highway going to and from school.

Poet Reads From Her Own Works

A responsive and well-pleased audience sat by the fire in Arts and Crafts Hall last Monday night and listened to Helen Hoyt as she read from her verses, published and unpublished. There is a very special thrill in hearing the words of the poet, and something deep in us is profoundly touched when that voice speaks for us our own emotions. Miss Hoyt is completely human and real; she feels what we feel, but, more blessed than we, she is able to capture the mood, to clarify it and to put it in words. Some of us who though ourselves true Californians were suddenly homesick for Chicago, as the poet's straight simple words made that grimy city with its lake winds and its savage beautiful strength take shape in our memory. We congratulate Helen Hoyt on the reality of the work she is doing, and we thank her for the pleasure she so generously gave us.

The three Bolle sisters arrived here from Pasadena this week. Miss Minnie has returned south, but Misses Eugene and Emily will be here for some time.

The parents of Mrs. Edward G. Kuster, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bromwell, whose home is in Carmel, will winter in Carmel.

Mrs. L. J. Grieder from Balboa was the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Otey, for a week recently.

Mrs. V. M. Porter and Miss Frances Taylor left on Thursday for Santa Barbara, where they will witness the Somerset Maughan play, "The Circle." They will be away about ten days.

The higher thought services will be held at the Mansfield-Wilson cottage on Dolores, between Eighth and Ninth, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Subject: "The Brother of the Prodigal Son."

Business is still booming at Denny's Chevrolet and Buick agency. Among the recent new Chevrolet owners are Peter J. Mawdsley, the sterling statistician, who has a touring model; Mrs. Chappell, who has a four-passenger coupe, and Felix Yanco, who has a touring car.

Mr. Edward Sparrow Jerome of Cincinnati is a guest at the Mansfield-Wilson cottage this week. Mr. Jerome is a lecturer, teacher and writer, and is associated with the New Thought Temple of that city. Miss Anita Murray from Seaside is also spending a few days with Ida Mansfield-Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Richardson of San Francisco, and Mrs. Ella Hill of Hollywood are guests of Mrs. Mary C. Chapin. Mrs. Hill will be here for several weeks. Mr. Richardson is a veteran of the Indian wars of the Seventies. At present he is lieutenant of the San Francisco custom house inspectors, in which service he has been for forty-five years.

Arthur Cyril of this city, who has long withheld from his local friends his close and intimate connections with the Russian royal family, and whose experiences and exploits are features of the daily press throughout the country, has promised to write for the Pine Cone a series of articles setting forth his hairbreadth escapes with his life and estates from the terrors of the Bolsheviks. Make Better Friends of Our Animal Friends

This department is edited by Eunice G. Gray, to whom all communications should be sent, in care of the Pine Cone.

The writer of this column was "adopted" for twenty-four hours recently by a dusty weary dog with beautiful Spaniel eyes and a collie tail. He is now at Miss Bassett's kennels awaiting his owner. Do you happen to know anyone who has lost a black dog who wears a brass studded collar? He is intelligent and affectionate and he wants his master.

A copy of the American Humane Review, published in Albany, N. Y., was recently handed to a Carmel lady who brusquely remarked, "I am not interested in animal literature when there are so many children who need help and kindness." If she had studied the magazine she would have found five articles upon child welfare in it. It is a common mistake made even by members of humane societies to think that humane work deals with only four footed animals. It just happens that as they cannot speak for themselves, it seems particularly necessary to speak for them.

C. Halsted Yates returned to town today after a three weeks' stay at Burke, Sonoma county, and he and Mrs. Yates leave Monday for Ventura, where he will judge shepherd dogs at the Ventura County Kennel Club Show. Mr. and Mrs. Yates have always been interested in the breeding of stock and have both judged many breeds at eastern shows, the former judging also cattle and horses.

Notes

The value of cats in the postal service has come to be so well recognized that an annual appropriation is made by Congress for their maintenance.

Cats have a commercial importance in certain lines of trade. Marine insurance does not cover damage done to the cargo by rats, but if the proprietor of the merchandise injured can prove that the ship was not furnished with a cat, he can recover compensation from the owner of the vessel.

Their many friends, and they are legion, will be pleased to learn that Mr. and Mrs. C. Halsted Yates are in the best of health, enjoying life at Carmel, California, and are still keen on the sagacious shepherd dog. Many will recall Mrs. Yates as the first president of the Shepherd Dog Club of America, and her untiring efforts to make the breed popular in America.

Builders in Monthly Session in Carmel

Contractors, sub-contractors and material men to the number of twenty-one, all members of the Monterey County Builders' Association, gathered at Pine Inn on Wednesday evening, with E. R. Nash as host.

After a most satisfactory dinner provided by J. B. J., a number of matters concerning the interests of the builders and the public were discussed.

The following were in attendance: W. H. McConnell, Ray Ramsey, S. Ruthven, L. E. Gottfried, M. J. Murphy, Roy M. Wright, S. J. Tice, E. H. Raymond, Ed Simpson, Harry Turner, E. R. Nash, J. N. Huber, T. B. Reardon, C. W. Allair, W. Riecks, E. H. Lewis, R. M. Fitzsimmons, T. A. Work, Andrew Jacobsen, L. C. Ryan.

Definite announcement is made that the Associated Oil Co. will not rebuild its storage tanks on the site of the recent fire in Monterey.

After a three weeks' rest, somewhere unknown, Maurice Browne is expected back in town in a day or two. He will occupy the Austin cottage.

Over at Salinas last Wednesday morning Judge David Wallace tied the knot which made Alex Mulgardt and Miss Marvel Phillips man and wife. The groom is the son of Louis F. Mulgardt, the well-known architect, and Miss Phillips, whose home was formerly in Seattle, is known to many here through her connection with the Kegg-Goldsmith Marionettes.

Veteran Engineer Visits Carmel

W. H. McGowan, veteran locomotive engineer, and his wife are visiting in Carmel, the guests of Mrs. J. L. Williams. Mr. McGowan happened to discover that L. S. Sloan, of this city, has a large collection of photographs of old locomotives, so the next thing in order was a seance for the purpose of examining and discussing them. Among them was found a picture of the very engine, of ancient type, which Mr. McGowan drove many years ago on the S. F. & N. P. Railway, and Mr. Slevin has photographed him with the picture in his hand.

The initial meeting of the Reading Circle was held Monday evening. It was voted to take "Henry Esmond" for the winter's reading. The readings are held on Monday evenings at Grey Gables, Lincoln at 7th.

The members of the Carmel Boys' Club are in danger of being spoiled by their social activities, for on Wednesday evening was held the third of the birthday parties this month, Mero Hammond, John Rockwell and Dale Leidig being the hosts of these occasions. Next Wednesday election of officers takes place.

Cameramen representing various concerns which specialize in filming current events for the screen are beginning to arrive on the peninsula to make moving pictures of the Serra Pilgrimage events. These pictures will be shown all over the world, giving us a vast amount of publicity.

Miss Christine Otis is attending Teachers' College at San Jose and living at the Y. W. C. A., where she is assisting in the preparations for the big annual carnival which takes place this week. This is an annual affair and consists of booths, stunts and an entertaining program. Miss Christine was selected to work out dance steps for a "Marian Harris" number, featuring a group of girls who will do a singing and dancing act with Christine as soloist.

Reicher Playhouse To Open in S. F.

The Playhouse of the Arts, at the Civic Center, is San Francisco's newest theatre. Miss Hedwiga Reicher is at its head. The opening date is Wednesday, October 15.

Miss Reicher will have with her two artists, Miss Elsie Dufour, authority on rhythmic technique of the body, and Mr. Blanding Sloan, widely known theatrical designer, etcher and painter. The playhouse of the Arts is devoted entirely to the study and the co-relation of the Arts in their intimate relation to the theatre. The three artists who have associated themselves in this work will develop a company of players who, in their all-round knowledge of the modern stage, will be able to attain this idea as a professional fore-runner to other dramatic events. Miss Reicher will appear at the Fairmont Hotel on October 3rd, in Oscar Wilde's "Salome."

Hedwiga Reicher, the director of the Playhouse of the Arts, is widely known as an actress on both the American and European stage, and in recent years has also been a producer of plays.

A special feature of the activities of the Playhouse of the Arts will be the staging of poetry, a new venture which Miss Reicher was the first to attempt. Successful performances of stage poetry have already been given in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, and at the Theatre of the Golden Bough in this city.

The Playhouse of the Arts will have the following departments: Development of the Speaking Voice; The Rhythmic Technique of the Body; the Dance; Practical Stagecraft and Design; Puppet-Making; the Art of Dancing in Poetry; Self Rehearsal, and a Lecture Course with the following lecturers: John D. Barry, Redfern Mason, Carol Aronovici, Edward G. Kuster, Susan C. Porter, Charles Erskine Scott Wood, Irving Pichel and Lawrence Strauss.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Syer and their son were visitors in Carmel last week.

Though the Episcopalians and the Christian Scientists each have their own church in Carmel, the third church has a congregation made up of twelve denominations under a Methodist minister.—Sigurd Russell.

Parley Parker Christensen, candidate for President on the Farmer-Labor ticket in 1920, was the week-end guest of Miss Anne Martin. Mr. Christensen is a member of the La Follette National Committee, and is on his way to Mexico.

Mrs. C. H. Yates gave a delightful luncheon and bridge in honor of Mrs. L. A. Nares, of Pebble Beach, on Wednesday, at the "Old Cabin," just reopened by Miss M. Hunkins. Other guests were Mrs. Robert Wells Ritchie and Mrs. John Reiners of Fresno.

"Dugan," whose Christian name is "Jimmy," is again in our midst. The wise young bull-pup came all the way across the U. S. A. in a freight car, and is none the worse for wear. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Byrens, his bosses, will return from Lake Champlain in a few weeks.

Mrs. Constance Lowell was here for a few hours last Sunday. She came from Flagstaff, Arizona, to look after her property interests here, which she has placed in the hands of Richard W. Hoagland. Mrs. Lowell returned to Flagstaff, to prepare for a trip to Washington, D. C.

The Godwin brothers entertained the following friends over the last week-end: Miss Margaret Moore of Piedmont, Pardow Hooper, John Brooks, Russell McDonald, Miss Lois Raggio, Miss Barbara Sesnon and Porter Sesnon, all of San Francisco. The party were also dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse.

Fire Insurance is not an expense—it is an investment in protection

☐ Direction of wind and tide are what saved Monterey from complete destruction in the recent fire.

☐ The fire which destroyed a residence in Carmel last week might have taken the whole town—your home or store.

☐ These are startling facts. Are you adequately insured?

☐ Do you know that it costs less than one cent a day for $1,000 on your house for a year?
